

CORN SHOW PRAISED BY THE EXPERT

82 Exhibitors Make 267 Entries in the Licking County Exhibition

2,820 EARS IN ONE CLASS

Judging by Expert Started on Wednesday Morning—$350 in Prizes to Be Distributed.

"From a hasty observation of the exhibit, I have no hesitation in saying that you have something here considerably above the average. As Licking county corn shows have not been regular annual affairs, the people have special reason for congratulating themselves on the size and apparent quality of the exhibit."

This was the statement of Expert James W. Cook, of Forest, O., shortly after he arrived Wednesday morning to begin judging in the biggest corn show ever held in Licking county. Judge Cook spent a short time Wednesday in conference with President J. M. Farmer and Secretary W. C. Metz, of the Licking County Crop Improvement society, before entering upon his task of sorting and judging the exhibits.

Entries closed at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, with 82 exhibitors listed, and with their 267 entries spread on tables extending nearly the full length of the arcade. These figures mean that the numbers of exhibitors and entries exceed by more than half the numbers in the largest corn show ever held in the county in past years.

Officers of the Licking County Crop Improvement society were inclined, Wednesday, to accord the big list of entries to two sources: One, the interest with which local merchants and citizens at large have greeted the idea and the generosity shown by them in donating $250 worth of prizes, and second Licking county's part in general crop improvement plans, such as the state corn boys' contest and activity of the state department of agriculture.

This interest is manifest in one display class in particular at the show. The utility class contains 2,820 ears of corn.

Judge Cook, the grain and farm products expert, has consented to deliver an address on crop improvement to Licking county farmers and all others who wish to attend Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the assembly room of the Newark Trust building, second floor. An invitation also was extended Wednesday to A. P. Sandles, head of the Ohio department of agriculture, but officers of the society had not been informed up to a late hour whether he would be able to appear. However, it is likely if not Mr. Sandles, some other representative of the state agricultural department will be here.

Judging started Wednesday forenoon, but results will not be announced until the work is completed.

Corn on exhibition is to be judged from all angles. That is, Judge Cook will consider the weight, size and shape of the ear, size, shape and color of the kernel, comparative size of kernels, and the fullness of growth on the ear, all subject, of course, to the class which the particular exhibit is entered.

Hundreds of people visited the show Tuesday afternoon and night, and Wednesday morning. Farmers from all over the county joined with Newark people, many of whom viewed the show more from the standpoint of curiosity than technical understanding of the science of good corn growing.

Distribution of $350 in prizes will be made immediately after the judging, which is expected to be concluded by Thursday night.

President J. M. Farmer, of the Crop Improvement society, said Wednesday he desired to express appreciation of the society and its exhibitors, for the generosity displayed by Newark merchants in donating the prizes, and to the newspapers of the county for the extensive publicity given the show, which he asserted had much to do with creating the interest among farmers, which is making the show a success beyond expectations of the organization.

Following is a complete list of the exhibitors who have furnished the 267 entries:

FEW NOTABLES REMAIN FOR THE FINAL SESSION

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 7.—Only a few of the many notables of the baseball world who have been in attendance at the historic meeting of the National Baseball commission remained today to witness what was expected to be the final meeting of the commission for the present.

Only routine matters were to be passed upon today, and the commission was in no hurry to meet to consider them. General congratulations were exchanged today on the outcome of the prolonged meeting yesterday. The extreme liberality with which the commission dealt with the Players' Fraternity was said to be a wise move by prominent baseball men, inasmuch as they believe that it will tend to eliminate the players and keep them from jumping to the Federal League.

46 BANKS INVOLVED BY THE FAILURE OF FOREIGN COMPANY

Sao Paulo, Brazil, Jan. 7.—The failure was announced here today of the Incorporadora company of Sao Paulo. The failure involves forty-six banks in the principal towns of the state of Sao Paulo. The banks affected were all founded by the Incorporadora company.

Several foreign banks are said to be the principal creditors.

MINERS STRIKE INQUIRY

Sanitary Conditions of Working Men Brought to the Governor's Attention

ALL THE DISTRESS CASES

Offered Relief by Head of Federation of Miners—Mining Companies Also Liberal Contributors.

(Associated Press Telegram) Houghton, Mich., Jan. 7.—Sanitary and housing conditions among working men of the copper country were brought to Governor Ferris' attention today in furtherance of his inquiry into the miners' strike.

Generally he was told such conditions are of neither high grade. Miss Clarice Jones, secretary of the Calumet associated charities, and Miss Henrietta Hoffenbecker, a visiting nurse for an anti-tuberculosis society, answered the governor's questions.

They said that the mining companies had always been liberal contributors to benevolent work and Miss Jones added that last night William Rickard, president of the Calumet local of the Western Federation of Miners had offered to cooperate in relieving any case of distress brought to his attention.

Neither witness tried to differentiate between general and strike cases. Miss Jones said 600 cases had been listed in the files of her organization since the organization began work in 1908, and that she had personally visited 75 homes before Christmas this winter.

The charity workers told the governor that women who had tried to assist the citizen's relief committee in disposing of $25,000 to families bereaved by the Italian hall disaster had been told that strikers' families were not allowed to accept aid from that source. The governor indicated that he would seek an interview with some of these women later.

24 ASSESSORS WILL SERVE IN THIS COUNTY

"All the real and personal property in Licking county will, in 1914 be listed by only 24 assessors under the Warnes Law," said Wm. H. Anderson, Dist. Assessor for this county. "Under the old method there would have been 106 assessors in the field. This means a reduction of 72 assessors under the Warnes Law and figures to be announced later by the State Tax Commission, are expected to show a material reduction in the expense of assessing property in this county."

The total number of tax gatherers in Ohio under the Warnes Law will be 1966 instead of 5880 that would have been required under the old system. In this county under the old system there would have been 106 assessors. There would have been 41 quadrennial assessors, one for each township and village and 5 for the city. Under the Warnes Law one set of 24 assessors will do the work that two forces of men would do under the old system. They will be under the constant supervision of the district assessor of this county.

While it may seem like asking too much for one small force of assessors to do the work that under the old system would have required the efforts of two corps of men, the members of the State Tax Commission believe they have imposed a reasonable task. The job of listing property will no longer be a vacation on pay, however, for men doing the work.

With respect to real estate the work of assessors will be merely one of revision, as the property is on the duplicate at approximately its true value. The greater part of the assessors' work will be confined to uncovering hidden personal property, and for this they will receive an increase of $1 per day in salary. The close supervision to be kept over the men and the reports that are to be required from them of the progress of their work is expected to greatly facilitate the matter of listing property and also to make it much more complete.

British Foreign Office to Transfer the Minister

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Jan. 7.—The intention of the British foreign office to transfer Sir Leopold Cordon British minister at Mexico City to Rio de Janeiro has been reported in dispatches received here from the American embassy in London.

THAW MAY BE GIVEN LIBERTY

His Release on Bail Would Not Menace Safety of the Public

CUSTODIANS TESTIMONY

Officer Who Has Charge of Prisoner Says He is "a Perfect Gentleman" at All Times.

(Associated Press Telegram) Concord, N. H., Jan. 7.—The release on bail of Harry K. Thaw would not menace public safety in the opinion expressed by two of his custodians today at a public hearing before the commission appointed by the Federal court to pass upon the matter of Thaw's mental condition, and its relation to his liberation under bonds.

Holman A. Drew, sheriff of Coos county, and Clerk D. Stevens, of the local police force, who have had Thaw in charge since September, favored his admission to bail. Thaw and his mother were present with counsel. None of the legal representatives of New York state was in attendance when the hearing opened.

Sheriff Drew told of his close relations with Thaw during the period of his custodianship. During that time he said, Thaw had not shown any tendency towards violence and had manifested no ill-temper or irritability and no lack of self-control.

The sheriff said Thaw was nervous and excited when first arrested at Colebrook, after his deportation from Canada, and also showed some excitement when he was denounced at the extradition hearing before Governor Feltner by William Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York, but no more than any man would under the same circumstances, added the witness.

"Thaw was a pleasant companion under all circumstances and in conversations upon current topics displayed 'wonderful insight.'"

"Would you consider him characterized by an exaggeration of the ego?" asked Dr. George A. Blumer of the commission.

"No, sir."

Officer Stevens, who occupies a sleeping room with the prisoner, and accompanies him on his walks, describes Thaw as "a perfect gentleman."

He said he wished he had Thaw's conversational ability. The principal difference between Thaw and other men in his opinion was that Thaw was more kind than the general run of the witness' acquaintances.

Stevens said that Thaw had never been mentioned in their conversations. No anger or resentment toward any public official or other person with whom his past had been connected had ever been shown in his presence by his charge, whose conduct had been characterized by common sense. The witness had never seen anything about the prisoner to make him feel that Thaw was a public menace.

Before adjourning the hearing without date, General Frank S. Streetter stated for the commission that Mr. Jerome had notified him that he had decided not to appear because the scope of the commission's inquiry was so limited. "It seems obvious," the commissioner said, "that Mr. Jerome greatly misapprehends the court order and the scope of the commission's power and duty thereunder. Unlimited powers appear to have been conferred upon the commission to enable it to perform its duty of advising the court upon the only question submitted whether Thaw's liberty on bail would menace public safety."

ATTORNEYS FOR RAILROADS MEET COMMISSIONER

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Jan. 7.—Attorneys representing the fifty-two eastern railroads applying to the interstate commerce commission for a five per cent increase in freight rates had a hearing today before Commissioner Harrison on the construction and interpretation of certain questions the commission has asked the railroads to answer.

George Stewart Patterson general counsel for the Pennsylvania, and Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, headed the delegation which had been selected to speak for all the railroads.

Miss Belle Willard to Wed Kermit Roosevelt

The engagement of another of the children of former President Roosevelt has just been announced. Kermit is to wed Miss Belle Willard, daughter of the American ambassador to Spain and former lieutenant governor of Virginia.

The marriage will take place probably this spring. Miss Willard is a real Virginia belle and one of the most beautiful girls ever seen in Washington society. The Willard family, whose home is in Richmond, is one of the oldest in the state. The New Willard Hotel was named after it and is now owned chiefly by the American ambassador.

Kermit Roosevelt, second son of the former president, is twenty-four. Since the summer of 1912 he has been in Brazil, and is now an officer of the Anglo-Brazilian Iron company in San Paulo. He is tall and well set, and has won honors as an athlete.

G. O. P. MEMBERS TO HAVE RALLY AND BANQUET

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, O., Jan. 7.—It requires a personal observation to fully realize the action of the men engaged here to prolong semblance of life in the Republican party, which discerning men cannot fail to realize as a political corpse. The Republican leaders here are the undoubted brains of what remains of the once powerful party. They are men whose personal appearance fully denote who and what they are. They are in fact well dressed and fine looking American aristocrats. The work before them looks like a desperate effort to postpone the funeral of the once great and powerful political organization. Among the prominent participants in what is being done or prevented from being done is Col. George Hamilton of Newark, whose personal presence stamps him as a born leader of men.

That the Colonel is looked up to by party leaders is plain to every looker-on about the hotel lobbies and places where men are gathered and holding conferences over the seriousness of the work before them.

Newark need not be ashamed of such a political leader as Col. Hamilton, regardless of what his views may be.

The Republican state central committee today decided to hold a banquet in Columbus, February 26, at which all Republicans and others who desire to promote the harmony of the Republican party will be invited to attend. This banquet will be addressed by Senator W. E. Borah of Idaho and other prominent men of the party.

The state central committee is considering the holding of a gathering at a later date which will be of the nature of a rally of Republicanists of parts of the state and will be in furtherance of the plan to promote party harmony and result in a union of all forces that are opposed to the Democrats.

FIRE VICTIMS SUFFER MUCH PAIN; TWO ARE IN SERIOUS CONDITION

Roy Underwood May Lose Hands Because of Extent of Burns—George Alberts Also Is Dangerously Hurt

THERE IS ONE VICTIM WHO REMAINS UNIDENTIFIED

Lies in Bazler & Bradley Morgue Awaiting Identification—Hundreds View Body Without Being Able to Offer Any Information Which Might Locate Relatives—Fire Marshal Deffenbach and Deputies Bell and Baird Start State Investigation.

With the identification of all but one of the victims of the Tuesday morning fire positively established and the bodies claimed by relatives, the relatives and friends today directed the arrangements for the funeral services for the victims.

Individual services will be conducted for each of the victims. Louis J. Stetler will be buried at Cedar Hill cemetery, services being conducted at the chapel of the funeral directors, Thursday morning, where the body was taken after being removed from the burned building.

John Zeggett, Roumanian, who was popular among his fellow countrymen, will be given a decent burial by the Roumanian society and his relatives. A priest from out of the city will conduct the services.

Joseph McFarland's funeral will be held from the home of relatives in West Main street, Thursday afternoon. Interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

Relatives have announced that the funeral of Gus Hogel will be held Friday morning at 10 o'clock at Newton chapel. Interment will be made in Barnes cemetery.

No stone has been left unturned which would lead to the identification of the "unknown" man who occupies a morgue table at the Bazler & Bradley establishment.

It was thought Wednesday morning that the body of the unknown victim had been partially identified when L. C. Russell, C. O. Burke and Earl Lanning, who had talked with the peddler who was selling coat frames in the city Monday, expressed their belief that the body at the morgue was that of the peddler. Later it was learned that one of the men at the hospital, Samuel McCune, told Dr. P. H. Cosner that he had been selling coat hangers. Mr. Burke and Mr. Lanning visited the hospital and through the courtesy of the head nurse they were allowed a short interview with McCune. The interview established the fact that the man at the morgue is not the peddler.

None of the three men in the hospital was able to give any information which might lead to the identity of the dead man. The only lodger at the Kern hotel who has not been accounted for is a man who was known as "Jim" and who had recently suffered the amputation of one of his fingers after the member was mashed in the door of a street car. None of the men knew "Jim's" surname.

The condition of the three patients at the hospital is serious. George Alberts and Roy Underwood are causing the hospital attendants the most concern. Because of Mr. Alberts' age his injuries are more serious. He was badly burned besides suffering a compound fracture of the femur. Underwood suffered the most serious burns and it is feared that amputation of both hands will be necessary. Surgeons found no sensation in the hands and were able to cut away portions of the burned flesh with no pain or discomfort to the patient. His condition was somewhat improved, however, Wednesday afternoon.

McCune, who is a stranger here, also suffered a fracture of the femur and was badly burned. His condition is not considered to be as serious as that of the other men. They are all suffering intensely.

Mr. Alberts' afternoon was brightened by a visit from his daughter, who was brought to him in Chicago. She knew nothing of her father's injury until she read the story of the fire in Tuesday evening's papers.

The family of Augustus Hogel, one of the fire victims, has been unable to locate the room occupied by Hogel in the hotel, or to find any of his clothing. The family requests that any person able to give information as to any of his belongings notify Bazler & Bradley, undertakers.

Arthur Grubb, night clerk, who suffered severe burns in the fire was much improved Wednesday and his physician states that he will be out in a few days. Grubb states that all the victims were registered and most of them in their rooms before he went on duty. They were registered by John Zeggett, who lost his life in the fire. The register was burned and with the death of Zeggett every means of identifying the victims by the hotel records was gone.

While the efforts were being made to identify the unknown victim, off-

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED IN AVLONA TODAY

(Associated Press Telegram) Vienna, Jan. 7.—Martial law was proclaimed today at Avlona, the Albanian seaport on the Adriatic sea.

No details were given to the dispatch reporting the proclamation, but it is considered probable that this action is connected with recent reports of a scheme to place Izzet Pasha, until lately Turkish minister of war, on the throne of Albania.

Another view is that it was brought about by the Vendetta by adherents of Essad Pasha, who is virtually dictator in Central Albania and those of Ismail Kemal Bey, provisional ruler of the autonomous government.

Political murders among the partisans of the rival chiefs have been frequent during the last few weeks and the tribes of southern Albania are said to be on the verge of war among themselves.

BOARD OF TRADE DINNER NEXT TUESDAY NIGHT

It is part of the policy of the new order of business of the Board of Trade to put its membership roll on a paid-up basis as soon as possible. Beginning next week a revised list of its membership roster will be published, and as rapidly as dues are paid up the names will be printed in the public press. It is desired to have the Board of Trade on a firm basis and in order to do so it is necessary that the members attend to their financial obligations to the Board of Trade at once so that the new year may start with a sound financial condition.

The manager, Mr. Wakefield, will visit all members of the Board this week and seek to have an interview with them so that every one can have a convenient opportunity to give his ideas and views to the manager. Now is the time to get together. Newark is on the eve of great development, if we get to work, every man in the city should be a member and should take as much pride in his membership as he does in his citizenship.

The Board will hold a dinner next Tuesday evening. The place has not been selected but will be determined on today and announced tomorrow. The dinner will be 50 cents as usual, and at the meeting which will follow there will be talks by out of town speakers and by men who have been negotiating with the manager concerning new enterprises for the city. An interesting program has been planned and every member who can come should advise the manager. Cards will be sent out and their importance calls for immediate reply.

The new concerns which are in correspondence with the Board comprise much in the way of new enterprises for Newark, and if the business men and taxpayers want to have better times they only have to get together and pull and push for the town.

CHAMBERLAIN TO LEAVE PARLIAMENT AT NEXT ELECTION

(Associated Press Telegram) Birmingham, England, Jan. 7.—Lord Chamberlain, the venerable British statesman, has decided to retire from parliament at the next general election. He has served continuously as a member of the house of commons since 1870, all this time representing West Birmingham.

Mr. Chamberlain leaves Highbury, his residence at Birmingham, next week for London. After a resting a few days there he will proceed to his usual winter visit to the south of France.

The Warnes Law at Close Range

The march of events has finally brought the Warnes tax law within close range. We can now see it as it begins to operate right here at home. It was enacted, primarily, to dispense with the antiquated custom of electing assessors. Governor Harmon asked it as a companion of the Smith one per cent law but the legislature refused it then. The present legislature enacted it. The old, dilapidated Republican machine at once proclaimed that Governor Cox was attempting to convert the taxing machinery of the State into a political machine. The Governor's answer to that charge was divided into two parts. First, he ordered the State Tax Commission to reduce the number of assessors to the minimum. That didn't smack much of machine building—reducing the number of appointments. Second, he arbitrarily placed this minimum of appointees under civil service. He took from Deputy Tax Assessors the right to appoint their assistant assessors except from an eligible list made up by the State Civil Service Commission after a competitive examination of all applicants without regard to politics. One can't build a partisan machine through the operation of civil service laws or competitive examinations.

What was the result of this first order? Let us see:

Under the old order this, 1914, would have been the year for the quadrennial reappraisal. Under the old law there would have been in the State 3415 personal property assessors and 2465 real property assessors or land appraisers, making a total of 5880 assessing officials. The State Tax Commission mapped out the work, created new taxing districts and ordered that the entire assessment and reappraisal of the State be done by exactly 1966 men instead of 5880, a reduction of 3914. In other words, in building his political machine, Governor Cox has deliberately thrown away 3914 cogs!

But let us take a closer view of this machine building. This county of Licking under the old law was entitled to 65 personal property assessors and 41 real property assessors, a total of 106.

Under the orders of the State Tax Commission we get just 34, no more, a reduction of 72 assessors and appraisers in this county alone. In other words, in his effort to build a machine in this county Governor Cox voluntarily surrendered the right to appoint 72 assessors.

Let's now look at the second order of the Governor. There are 1966 assessors to appoint in the State. Will Governor Cox appoint them or will his appointees appoint them? No. The State Tax Commission made a requisition on the State Civil Service Commission for exactly 1966 assessors for the State—no more. It made a requisition for 34 assessors for this county—no more. And in every county in the State on last Saturday a competitive examination was held by the Civil Service Commission to ascertain the qualifications and fitness, not politics, of applicants for these assessorships. You have seen or heard of the list of questions asked. They were eminently fair. You know that in this county, at least, many high grade men, who would not take the office of assessor if they had to run for it at an election, took the examination and we are advised that the same is true throughout the State.

The appointments in this county and in every county will be made from the best of these applicants without regard to politics. And after they are appointed these assessors will hold their offices, regardless of politics, so long as they faithfully discharge their duties.

The truth is that the Warnes law provides the best taxing machinery yet devised. Other states are sending men here to study and copy it. It is absolutely non-partisan and the charge that Governor Cox was using it to build up a political machine is but further evidence of G. O. P. senility.

PURITY

On New Year's eve, Miss Marie Colville entertained with a waltz party, at her home north of here. Music and various games were enjoyed during the evening and at 11 o'clock a luncheon was served. Those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames J. B. Colville, Calvin McClelland, John Colville, Misses Elizabeth Elliott, Aria and Edith Reynolds, Susie and Myrtle Jones, Delia Hawke, Bertha Evans, Verna Colville, Ethel Ewart, Edna Shannon, Marie, Lois, Ruth and Sara Colville, Messrs. James Reynolds, Paul and Carl Lewis, Bryce Jones, McCullough, Frank and Dane Hawke, Bert Evans, Paul and Frank Colville, Hugh, Ben, Joe and David Colville.

Miss Elizabeth Elliott was called to the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Weaver, near St. Louisville, Friday, by the death of the latter's father-in-law. She remained until after the funeral Sunday.

Grant Ferris was summoned to Newark Saturday night by the illness of his mother, Mrs. James Harris. She was hurried to the hospital and underwent an operation the same night. Her chance for recovery is considered very good.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes entertained at dinner New Year's Day, the following guests: Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph Kidwell, Harve Colville, Leslie Meyers and baby, Miss Verna Colville, Bert Evans, Paul and Frank Colville.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Van Winkle entertained the following guests New Year's day: Samuel Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Householder, Mrs. Sadie Marriott, Ira Evers and son, William, and daughter Marie.

A pigeon shoot was enjoyed by local sports and some others from a distance, New Year's day.

C. L. Smith and family have moved into the home with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, both of whom are in failing health.

Rev. Mr. Foster will fill his appointment at Eden next Sunday morning and evening. Let everybody who can, come out to hear him.

Mrs. Joseph Hobbs has been on the sick list since Saturday.

Born, January 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hunt, a son, Carl Leeding.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Layman and daughter Nina spent Sunday with Clyde Berger and family near Martinsburg.

Miss Zella Rine was a guest of the Misses Harter in Newark Friday and Saturday.

Navy Should Be a Great University, With Every Ship a School :: :: ::

By JOSEPHUS DANIELS,
Secretary of the Navy

© 1913, by American Press Association.

THE NAVY SHOULD BE A GREAT UNIVERSITY, WITH COLLEGE EXTENSION, HIGH SCHOOL EXTENSION AND PRIMARY EXTENSION ALL ON BOARD SHIP. EVERY SHIP SHOULD BE A SCHOOL, AND EVERY OFFICER SHOULD BE A SCHOOLMASTER. IN THIS WAY WE CAN GIVE THE YOUNG MAN HIS RIGHTFUL CHANCE TO BETTER HIS POSITION AND AT THE SAME TIME BENEFIT THE NAVY BY INCREASING THE KNOWLEDGE AND USEFULNESS OF ITS PERSONNEL.

It is not easy to secure the full complement of young men of character needed each year to man our ships. To stimulate enlistments it has been necessary to resort to recruiting stations, traveling recruiting parties and advertisements.

Only in exceptional cases has the navy been making good its promises. I found that it was only the young man of EXCEPTIONAL MERIT AND ABILITY or with unusual determination to learn a useful trade who was really getting the kind of instruction which all who enlisted had been led to believe would be afforded them. I decided then that either the navy must stop publishing such advertisements or else IT MUST GIVE THE YOUNG MAN ALL THAT THE ADVERTISEMENTS PROMISE.

TO ESTABLISH ON EACH SHIP A SCHOOL OF INSTRUCTION FOR THE ENLISTED MAN IS MY AIM AT PRESENT. THESE SHIP SCHOOLS SHOULD BE OPEN NOT EXCLUSIVELY TO THE EXCEPTIONAL MAN, BUT TO EACH YOUNG MAN ON BOARD.

I purpose that every young man who enlists shall be given at the outset an opportunity to CHOOSE FOR HIMSELF WHAT LINE OF TRAINING HE WISHES TO PURSUE.

Human Procession

Bavarians will celebrate today the sixty-ninth birthday of their new monarch, King Ludwig or Louis III. As he is the first same king Bavaria has had in more than a quarter of a century, the people of the second of the non-Prussian states of the German empire are naturally jubilant. Ludwig II., who committed suicide during a fit of insanity, and Otto, who has been nominal king since 1886, although confined in one of his chateaux, were both mental incompetents, and Prince Luitpold, their uncle, ruled as regent until his death last year. He was succeeded in the regency by his son Ludwig, who was recently elevated to the throne in the place of Otto. At first Ludwig declined the proffered crown, but later changed his mind, owing, it is alleged, to the ambition of his wife, who was the Austrian Archduchess Maria Theresa.

Prevent Diphtheria.

A sore throat is a good breeding place for diphtheria germs. Protect your children by never neglecting a Sore Throat. You can wisely depend upon TONSILINE. Give Tonsiline upon the first appearance of Sore Throat—don't give diphtheria a chance in that throat in its weakened condition. When TONSILINE is swallowed it comes directly in contact with the diseased surface and induces a healthy condition of the membranes—then the system can better defend the throat if attacked by diphtheria germs. Keep TONSILINE in the house where you can get it quick when needed. 25c., 50c. and $1.00.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

NO ALCOHOL NO NARCOTICS

Has been recommended for over forty years as a remedy for ailments peculiar to women. Thousands of grateful women have testified to its effectiveness. You, too, will find it beneficial. As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health.

This tonic, in liquid form, was devised over 40 years ago for the womanly system, by R.V. Pierce, M.D., and has benefited many thousand women. Now it can also be obtained in tablet form—from dealers in medicine, or send 50 one-cent stamps for a trial box.

Every woman ought to possess Dr. Pierce's great book, the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a magnificent thousand-page illustrated volume. It teaches mothers how to care for their children and themselves. It is the best doctor to have in the house in case of emergency. Over half a million copies were sold at $1.50 each, but one free copy in cloth covers will be sent on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of wrapping and mailing only. Address

"I wrote to you about six months ago for your kind advice in regard to my case," writes Mrs. Lizzie White. "At times I was hardly able to be on my feet. I believe I had every pain and ache a woman could have. Had a very bad case of uterine disease. Ovaries were very much diseased and my back was very weak. I suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, in fact I suffered all over. I followed your directions as closely as I could, and was well pleased with the results. I have taken your 'Favorite Prescription' and 'Golden Medical Discovery' for about three months and can now say that my health was never better. I can highly recommend Doctor Pierce's remedies to any woman suffering from female disease, and I do recommend them to every one I see. Have induced several to try your wonderful medicines." Eggs.

For months the hens turned out no eggs, and caused us much despair; in vain we tried to pull their legs—the henfruit wasn't there. And then the sinful storage men began to make their hay; they charged us seven kinds of yen for eggs put down last May. Whereat we rose in awful ire, the storage men to roast; we talked of faggot and of fire, and longed to see them toast.

"These soulless vampires," so we cried, "would rob us left and right! We can't have henfruit, poached or fried—the cost is out of sight! They buy their eggs at seven cents, at forty cents they sell; oh, let's round up these wicked gents, and lynch them for a spell!" Next year the crazy, dippy hens may lay to beat the band; you'll hear them cackling in their pens throughout the blooming land. And then the men with storage eggs, who had good luck this year, will walk around on wobbly legs and shed the scalding tear. And when we see these wretched jays, thus mourning, in the hole, we'll pause to wish them better days, to pity and condole.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loopy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At the end of the box The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.

No Such Thing as American Style

By PAUL POIRET, French Fashion Creator

I DON'T AND CAN'T BELIEVE THAT THERE CAN BE ANY SUCH THING AS AN AMERICAN MODE. I DON'T SEE ANY SIGNS OF IT, AND I CAN'T BELIEVE WE WILL SEE ANY SUCH THING.

This is for the same reason that there is not a French cocktail. You see, every people makes a specialty of something, and elegance is a French thing. That is why the French mode is universal.

Women are wrong to adopt one style regardless. They are not all made alike. They are different. They SHOULD WEAR DIFFERENT GOWNS.

They say that the oriental trend is going out and the Venetian style is coming in. But they are wrong. It is not true. The ORIENTAL TREND IS CONTINUING.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

Feminine Diplomats.

"When the time comes that women are appointed as our ambassadors,—though I suppose ambassadors would be the more correct term, wouldn't it?" hesitated the Bachelor Girl.

"I think that would fit better," responded the Bachelor, "You know I detest attempts at puns," retorted the Bachelor Girl. "But at any rate, when women are sent abroad to fill these posts, I think we shall have diplomacy of an unusually high order."

"How did you arrive at that startling conclusion?" queried the Bachelor?

"By watching women manage men. The skillful methods of some women are truly marvelous to me. I had a fair example of it the other day. Two men of my acquaintance were set to mopping floors by a feminine diplomat and they thoroughly enjoyed the performance. Yet ordinarily if such work had been suggested to them, they would have seen the person suggesting it dead and buried before they would have done it."

"Mopping floors?" exclaimed the Bachelor. "Why in the world were they mopping floors?"

"Well, it was rather unusual, I'll confess. But we were fixing up a hall for a fair, and at the last minute we found a lot of cleaning to do. So we pressed the men into service. And in the twinkling of an eye, this feminine diplomat had two of the most fastidious men mopping the floor with as much zest as they would play a game of golf. They slushed water around and scrubbed away with the mops as if their bread and butter depended upon it; and they laughed and cracked jokes as if it was a picnic. And all because she stood by and egged them on in just the right way. But I can just see them mopping floors under any other conditions. And so I say, for diplomacy of the very highest order, look to a woman."

"Well, if that's the case," observed the Bachelor. "I would not have them appointed as ambassadors. There is a place where diplomacy is far more wanted than in affairs of state."

"Where is that?" asked the Bachelor Girl in surprise.

"Right in the home," replied the Bachelor. "If a woman can get her husband to mop floors and think he is enjoying it, and bring up coal under the delusion he is training for athletic honors, and walk the floor with the baby believing he will thereby win the next marathon, it seems to me her post is already waiting for her. I think she will be achieving far more essential results in the scheme of things than settling the fisheries question or further complicating the Monroe Doctrine."

"Without doubt. But in one case her ability is recognized and rewarded, and in the other it isn't. Women have waked up to this fact and they are out for laurel wreaths and medals and statues in the Hall of Fame, quite as much as the men are. To keep them content in the home, the work of running the home needs to be put on the same basis as any other occupation."

"I am willing to boost it a good deal higher," said the Bachelor. "Only to do it properly I ought to be able to speak from experience. Don't you think so?"

But the Bachelor Girl was putting on her hat, and her mouth was too full of hatpins to reply.

Barbara Boyd.

Blobs—(I) believe women are becoming even more changeable, if possible. Blobs—Yes, the divorce courts prove that.

STOMACH MISERY GAS, INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapiesin" really does its sick, sour, bloated stomachs in five minutes—Time It!

Time It! In five minutes all stomach distress will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eruptions of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapiesin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it, without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapiesin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

CONSIGNMENT OF IMPORTED PARTRIDGES

A big consignment of imported Hungarian partridges from State Game Commissioner Speaks was received here Wednesday by Representative W. D. Fulton, for distribution and liberation in Licking county. Each county in the state is being provided with several pairs of the game birds with a view to propagating their kind all over Ohio.

A male and female of the local consignment were placed on display in the Advocate window Wednesday morning. The birds are considerably larger than the native quails of this family, now quite scarce. The birds will be distributed to trustees of each township by Representative Fulton, and will be liberated as soon as received by the trustees.

William J. Mackensen, importer, gives directions for liberating game birds. If they are taken from the crates and simply left to fly, they will, in their attempt to get away as far as possible from their captor, continue in their flight until exhausted. Such a flight will eventually land them outside the preserve for which they are meant. To prevent this, it is best to select a suitable spot, place some food and water within easy reach, and then bring out the game.

The Courts

Marriage Licenses.

Ross M. McIntosh, 24, clerk, Summit Station, and Beryl Crosby, 26, Newark. Rev. L. C. Sparks to officiate.

Charles C. Spiker, 26, farmer, Vanatta, and Maude Elizabeth Horner, 24, Vanatta. Rev. C. L. Sparks to officiate.

Divorce Petitions.

Charging that his wife permitted improper company to call upon her daughter in the family home, and that she also committed acts of infidelity, Reese Burris has filed suit in probate court for a divorce from Josephine Burris, to whom he was married Oct. 5, 1904. Attorney L. C. Russell represents the plaintiff.

When hubby threw the family dishes into the field and then in face of that deed refused to supply wife with shelter and medicine when she was sick, he did enough to warrant a divorce, says Ella Williamson Sheppard in her suit filed against James Wesley Sheppard, to whom she was married Oct. 20, 1910. The action was brought in common pleas court by Attorney J. V. Hilliard.

Cruelty and neglect of duty are mentioned by Jennie Cashdollar, in her suit filed in probate court for divorce from Fred Cashdollar. Part of their married life was spent in Newark and part in Pataskalia. They were married March 20, 1902. They have three children, Ralph, 10; Lillian and Lillie, 8. Attorney J. V. Hilliard represents the plaintiff.

Battle Farmer, of Newark, filed suit in common pleas court, Wednesday, by her attorney, R. F. McDonald, for divorce and alimony from Frank Farmer, and custody of their two children, Margaret, 14, and Paul, 10. She charges him with extreme cruelty and failure to provide for her and the children. She asks temporary alimony, pending final decree of the suit. They were married in Hopewell township Sept. 25, 1897.

Common Pleas Court. The court was engaged in the trial of the case of J. W. Horner, administrator of the estate of Jane Still, vs. James H. Kirkpatrick. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, the court took the case under advisement.

The Christmas Money Club Points The Way

There is no class of our people to whom the Christmas Money Club should appeal with greater force than to those who labor in our shops and factories. No one should better understand the value of a dollar than the man who has earned it bare-armed, by his labor and skill. He is ambitious to own his home—to save in the years of his greatest earning power so that the necessity for severe labor may be removed later on. It is not difficult to save, even now when so much is justly said about the high cost of living, if an easy, systematic plan is adopted.

STUDY THE CHRISTMAS MONEY CLUB

It is designed to create a better citizenship—to encourage men in the practice of thrift—to encourage them to SAVE now so they may HAVE in years to come. Membership in the CHRISTMAS MONEY CLUB will increase one's self respect and give that satisfaction which always comes from having money in the bank.

JOIN THE CHRISTMAS MONEY CLUB

You may join the Club Monday, January 12th, or up to January 19th. Call at the office the opening week and avoid the rush for memberships later on.

THE HOME BUILDING ASSOCIATION COMPANY

ARRANGE FOR THE COMING SEASON AT SUMMERLAND

An enthusiastic meeting of the stockholders and directors of the Summerland Beach Improvement company was held at the company's offices in Granville, Monday. The time of the annual election of directors was set for the first Tuesday of August, when the stockholders from different parts of the state will be in attendance.

A season filled with conferences, conventions, school, assembly and chautauqua was reported and thus early in the life of this new outing place its prestige is established as the summer home of the best uplit movements of the state.

The summer school beginning some time in June will continue for six weeks closing in time for the assembly and chautauqua, which will begin August 2 and continue for fourteen days. During this period, from Aug. 6 to Aug. 14, the state conference of Christian endeavor workers will be held, the young people of that organization joining in the afternoon and evening features of the assembly program.

The strongest program in the history of Summerland Beach will be given this year and has some of the country's best speakers and entertainers on the chautauqua platform.

Immediately following the assembly will begin the summer conference of the Anti-Saloon league of Ohio which will continue for ten days. This to be succeeded by the get-together conference of the Y. M. C. A. of the state of Ohio, which last year, was one of the best conferences ever held in Summerland.

The following officers were elected for the new year: Mr. S. F. Van Voorhis of Newark, president; Mr. C. J. Rose of Granville, secretary; Mr. D. L. Mauger, Kirkersville, treasurer, and Mr. E. E. Haskins of Summerland, general manager.

A WOMAN BRIGAND

By SAMUEL E. BRANT

There lived in medieval times in Florence, Italy, a nobleman, one of the Conda family, who fell under the displeasure of Lorenzo de' Medici and was obliged to fly for his life. He found his way to the island of Sicily and took up his abode on the foothills below Mount Etna, where he was joined by his wife and children.

Those were troublous times, and the dividing line between making a living honestly and by plunder was not so well marked as now. Giuseppe Conda, having been a man of action, naturally fell to levying tribute from travelers for a living. He passed years supporting his family in this way and was at last shot by the police and killed, leaving a daughter twenty years old to care for several younger children.

Bianca Conda, having been brought up without a knowledge of any way of making a livelihood than that adopted by her father, saw no other way to support the little ones intrusted to her care than by turning brigand. Adopting man's attire, she would go out to some spot favorable for ambuscade on a thoroughfare and lie in wait for some luckless traveler, order him to leave his valuables on a rock, and when he had done so she would permit him to pass on.

But Bianca had a very sweet, womanly voice which she could not disguise. Indeed, she did not attempt to do so. She would say in her own natural tones: "Signor, I have you covered with my carbine. Place what valuables you have with you on that rock beside the road and proceed on your way. If you refuse I shall kill you."

Some submitted through fear, but a number were influenced rather by being commanded by a woman with a sweet voice. Perhaps there were persons robbed who were well armed and would have resisted had it not been for this consideration. At any rate, Bianca did not have to hurt any one. But so averse was she to her calling that whenever she took in valuables from a traveler she never robbed another till the plunder was all gone.

Bianca was pitied by the people who dwelt in her section of the island, and the story of her method of supporting her brothers and sister spread abroad. The young Count Tarantola, a Florentine who was visiting Sicily, heard of her while sojourning at Palermo. He knew of her connections in his native city and had heard of the treatment her father had received at the hands of Lorenzo de' Medici. He resolved to make the ascent of Mount Etna and on the way attempt to secure an interview with the woman bandit.

He purposely traveled alone on a road on which he was told that Bianca levied tribute. He heard that the night before she had levied upon two different travelers, from neither of whom she had secured more than a pittance. Therefore he calculated she would try it again the next night.

At the point where he expected to be robbed he heard Bianca demanding the tribute in her accustomed voice.

"Signorina," he replied, "I have nothing to give you except the signet ring of my family. I leave it for you on the rock, begging that you will not turn it into money, but wear it for the sake of one who knows of your father's treatment at the hands of the Medici family and pities you sincerely."

Bianca heard this request given in a voice no less attractive for a man than hers was for a woman. She readily made the promise. The count then begged that she would permit him to see her, but she refused his request. So there was nothing for him to do but pass on.

Count Tarantola ascended Mount Etna, but he was oblivious to what he saw, for the voice of Bianca Conda was ever sounding in his ears. Returning to Florence he went to court, where he had great influence, became an advocate for Bianca Conda and her young charges and succeeded in removing the ban against them and securing a restoration of their estates. But before they were recalled he exacted from the government a promise to keep secret the fact that he had been instrumental in their change of fortunes.

One night after Bianca's arrival in Florence she was attending a ball. Suddenly she started. A voice behind her was saying: "Good evening, signora. When did you return from Rome?" The words were spoken in the voice she had heard the night she had robbed Count Tarantola of his signet ring. She had it on her finger at that very moment. She turned and saw the young count, whose eyes met hers. The lady to whom he had spoken moved on, and, approaching Bianca, he said:

"I have heard of your restoration to your estates, signorina. Permit me to congratulate you."

He advanced and offered his hand Bianca, whose cheeks were aflame, allowed him to take hers.

"What's this?" said the count. "I feel a ring, the stone of which is turned in."

Bianca knew by his expression that she was known as the woman who had robbed him of his ring.

It was not long after this that the union occurred between the Tarantola and Conda families. Nor did the lover need to tell that he had been the cause of the return of her patrimony to win her. That she did not know till some time after they had been married.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Common Garden Sage and Sulphur Makes Streaked, Faded or Gray Hair Dark and Glossy At Once.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. THE FAR CALL.
THE Galway roads are calling, calling to the Galway born.
They can see the dew wet hedges shining jeweled in the morn.
They can hear the heart horn laughter of such childhood known gossamer,
And o' nights they hear the fiddles in a well remembered tune,
And the Galway voices call them where the Galway children play,
And their hearts turn back to Galway—aye, from half the world away!

And the Devon roads are calling, calling to the Devon born.
They can smell the English roses in the sweetness of the morn.
They can see the white winged fishers homing when the day is done
On a sea all crimson glory from the setting Devon sun.
And the blue eyed Devon lassies call them from the long ago
And their hearts are sick for Devon when the sun is red and low.

And the Scottish hills are calling—call the Scottish banks and braes,
And the Holland dikes and lowlands, and call loud Italian ways.
From wherever men were children, north or south or east or west,
Comes the call to those who've wandered when their fateful limbs would rest.
It is not the home ways calling when the evening sun sinks low;
It is lost youth calling, calling: but they never seem to know.

—Judd Mortimer Lewis.

DON'T MIND.
DON'T mind if you're feeling bad, it won't be long before you're glad.
Don't mind if you're feeling blue, there's something somewhere waiting for you.

To lift your shadow and your care
And heal the haunting, dark despair.
Don't mind if the day goes wrong,
Perhaps before the night a song
Will rise around you great and clear,
Like magic music to your ear.
And all your weary heart will feel
Responsive to its sweet appeal.

Don't mind if you lose the chance,
It won't be long before you'll dance
Into the biggest luck of all.
Fight on with back against the wall,
And somehow to your blade will leap
The strength to swing it far and deep.

Don't mind if you feel cast down,
Tomorrow you may wear the crown.
From out the shadows over you
Today tomorrow's sun will strew
The gladdening and uplifting beams
That all the heart with brighter dreams.

HASSAN'S PROVERBS.
KING HASSAN, well beloved, was wont to say
When aught went wrong or any project failed
"Tomorrow, friends, will be another day."
And in that faith he slept and so prevailed.

Long live this proverb! While the world shall roll
Tomorrow's fresh shall rise from out the night
And new baptize the indomitable soul
With courage for its never ending fight.

No one, I say, is conquered till he yields,
And yield he need not while, like mist from glass,
God wipes the stain of life old battle fields
From every morning that he brings to pass.

New day, new hope, new courage—let this be
O soul, thy cheerful creed! What's yesterday
With all its shards and wreck and grief to thee?
Forget it, then. Here lies the victor's way.

—James Buckham.

AND WHEN I BECAME A MAN.
PILED away on a dusty shelf,
Back in the dark where none may see,
Lie the toys of my childhood self—
Little boy that I used to be.

AN engine fierce and a woolly bear,
A battered doll with a tangled wig,
A bank that one time was passing fair,
Some marbles, a top and a fat toy pie.

AND now I have grown to be a man,
With a man's ambitions and hopes and fears,
I'll build my life on a larger plan
And banish the emblems of childhood's years.

SO piled away on a dusty shelf,
Back in the dark where none may see,
Lie the toys of my childhood's self—

Through hardship, toil and bitter pain
He walked, serenely brave,

TUMULTY WEARS WILSON MANTLE

Secretary Real "Acting President" at White House.

FEAR TRUSTS ARE TRICKY.

Their Complete Voluntary Surrender Arouses Suspicion—"Business Man In Congress" Doesn't Like Red Tape and Proves Failure as Lawmaker. Banking Situation Hopeful.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Jan. 7.—[Special]—Those who like to talk about "acting presidents" might turn their attention to Joseph P. Tumulty. If any man comes near being "acting president" that man is Tumulty. He does more real presidential business during Mr. Wilson's vacation than all the cabinet officers put together. Tumulty is the man who speaks for the president and with authority too. Tumulty is the man who denies the wild rumors, such, for instance, as the report that President Wilson was about to take a back track on his presidential primary proposition. He also gives information as to the plans and purposes of the administration. He is at the White House transacting the presidential business. No cabinet officer is "acting president" while Joseph P. Tumulty is on the job.

Politics on the Side.
And there is a bit of politics being played on the side by Mr. Tumulty. He is taking the time of the holiday recess to reach out and get hold of some of the loose ends that became frayed during the long currency fight. There are quite a number of state tangles which Tumulty must straighten out. President Wilson will not take up those factional fights unless it is a matter of last resort. He will not interfere as long as the watchful Joe seems able to handle them. And Joe looks after such matters from the politician's point of view. He has straightened out quite a number of difficulties for the president. When Mr. Wilson returns he will find that his secretary has been turning a few more neat tricks which need only his personal ratification.

Trusts Coming In.
The manner in which the trusts are coming in and surrendering is rather surprising. Back in the Fifty-first congress there was fierce denunciation of the trusts and combinations, and the Sherman law was passed. If that law had not been allowed to remain a dead letter for a dozen or more years the big trusts would not have been organized and the trust question might have been settled, or be on its way to a settlement. If the present administration is able to bring about voluntary disbandment of trusts it will accomplish a great deal.

People Are Suspicious.
But the people, according to the views of members of congress, are suspicious of voluntary action by the trusts. They also remember that the stocks of the Standard Oil and Tobacco companies went up after the court dissolution. Besides, such dissolutions as now take place are in the nature of private agreements between the trusts and the attorney general. "It may be all right," said one man, "but some way I can't get it through my head that those fellows would come in and surrender without keeping something up their sleeves or in their boot legs." This man is from the west and must be "shown."

Disappointed Congressman.
The "business man in congress" is often a failure. Congress does not legislate as business men attend to their great affairs. So it is not surprising that Congressman Whitacre of Ohio finds congress unsatisfactory. Whitacre found that he was simply one of a great mass called upon from time to time to stand up and be counted, to vote with his party and nothing more. He looked over the field and, according to his view, the legislation which was passed could have been put through in two months instead of taking ten months. A lot of men feel the same way about congress. They think too much time is given to buncombe talk, much time is given to too much hair splitting, too much political fence building, and not enough plain, honest, straightforward business transacted. That is why congress is not attractive to the average business man and is attractive to the lawyer, the debater, the student and even the philosopher.

Not Destroying Banks.
It may not seem strange, but in view of what has been said it is pleasant to be able to say that Secretary McAdoo and the present administration are not bent on destroying the banking interests with the new currency law. On the contrary it develops that Secretary McAdoo is doing all he can to help all banking institutions to adjust their business to the new system without disturbing business conditions or banking relations. Perhaps this new scheme will work out all right.

Stop the Waste.
The agricultural department has taken up in earnest the matter of preventing waste and in that way reducing the cost of living. Several circulars have been issued on the subject, which show that many articles which are thrown away and considered useless are really convertible into food products.

Mrs. Meriweather

By SADIE OLCOTT

A young man about twenty-five years old, his dress smacking of the kind worn by gentlemen in London, entered the gateway of a country residence, went up to the front door and rang the bell. His summons was answered by a maid, who took his card on a salver and ushered him into a drawing room. Presently a young woman several years his junior, in plain apparel, came down the broad, winding staircase and advanced to receive him.

"I have called," he said, "as a neighbor. I own the property adjoining this and have learned that a Mrs. Meriweather during my sojourn abroad has bought this property, and I would like to welcome her into the neighborhood. Is she at home?"

Now, the properties of Mrs. Meriweather and her caller, Mr. Hinchelwood, had originally been one tract of land. A lawsuit had arisen between Mr. Hinchelwood's father and Mrs. Meriweather's uncle involving the title to Mrs. Meriweather's part of the estate, which had become so formidable that it threatened to swamp both sections under a load of court costs and lawyers' fees. Finally the two lawyers representing the Meriweather and the Hinchelwood interests got together, and after a conference it was intimated to Mrs. Meriweather, a widow, and Mr. Hinchelwood, a bachelor, that if a match could be made between them it would make two defective titles perfect, and litigation and save two valuable properties.

Hinchelwood, who had been sent to England to be educated and had remained there ever since, concluded to come home and look into the matter. He arrived when his attorney happened to be out of town and, without waiting to learn anything of the widow and other features pertaining to the case, resolved to make a neighborly call with a view to informing himself.

"She is indisposed this morning," the girl finally replied. "I shall tell her of the object of your call, and I am sure she will appreciate your motive. Won't you be seated?" she added, since the gentleman remained standing.

"Thank you; a few minutes. Will you convey to Mrs. Meriweather my regrets at not seeing her and tell her that it will give me pleasure to call another time."

"Mrs. Meriweather would be disappointed if you did not," was the reply. "Is Mrs. Meriweather—eh—a—an elderly lady?"

"She is not young."

"Um. She has been described to me as a remarkably fine woman."

This was for pumping purposes. The lady had not been described to him at all.

"She has friends," was the sententious reply.

"That is true of all of us."

"Quite so."

"I'm very ignorant," Mr. Hinchelwood proceeded in this unadorned dialogue, "of everything that has been going on about here. I haven't been here for a matter of ten years."

"That's a long while for one to be away from home."

Now, it must not be inferred because the two confined themselves to these commonplace remarks that they were bored with each other. Mr. Hinchelwood gathered from the young woman's quiet though impressive demeanor that she was a person of character, and, though he smacked of Rotten row and Piccadilly, she gathered that he was nobody's fool. After some ten or fifteen minutes of these preliminaries they fell to chatting about places abroad, and the lady showed herself as familiar with them as the man. The ice at last broken, they enjoyed a chat which Mr. Hinchelwood was surprised to notice by his watch after leaving had occupied more than an hour. He would have liked to ask the lady's position in the household, but was too well bred to do so.

Later a meeting was arranged between Mr. Hinchelwood and Mrs. Meriweather to occur in the office of her attorney, ostensibly with a view to making some mutual concessions that would better the situation as to their properties. But the real object was, and was so understood by both parties, to give them an opportunity to have a look at each other to determine whether the difficulties might not be overcome by a union of interests by marriage.

Mr. Hinchelwood, remembering the few words he had heard about Mrs. Meriweather from the person who had received him at her house, was indifferent, but consented to the meeting. When he was confronted by the young woman he had met before he supposed she had come to represent her principal. When he was introduced to her as Mrs. Meriweather he stood gaping at her.

"You are Mrs. Meriweather?" he asked.

"I am."

"You told me—"

"No falsehoods. I said Mrs. Meriweather was at home, but indisposed. I was not feeling very well that morning."

There was a lot of local talk between the lawyers that did not bring any result. Mr. Hinchelwood made another call on the widow, and another and another. Finally the lawsuit was ended and the two properties made one by the marriage of the owners.

WE RECOMMEND MORSE'S GLYCEROLE FOR NERVOUSNESS

We Know What It Has Done for Us, Writes an Ohio Lady.

Mrs. Marry E. Wraggs, 1225 Myrtle avenue, Zanesville, Ohio, wrote Hazel Morse, compounder of Morse's Glycerole, in part, as follows:

"Last Summer I was in a very nervous condition. I went to Chester A. Baird's Drug Store and bought a bottle of Glycerole. I felt much better after taking a few doses. I continued until I felt really well. Now, I never like to be without it—for when I am extra fatigued, I just take a dose or two, and soon feel right again. My husband is taking it and tells how much good it is doing for him. We recommend it to everyone we know, because we know what it has done for us."

This shows that a bottle of Morse's Glycerole should be in every household at all times. There's no telling when someone will be too tired or too nervous to sleep. One dose will quiet the nerves. It's as good for fretful babies and the aged as it is for the vigorous adults. Get a large 50-cent bottle from your druggist. Take as directed. If you are not pleased with results, your money will be cheerfully given back. Evans' Drug Store, Newark, will supply you if your druggist has none in stock.

Total Assets over Two Million Dollars.

ENDORSES WORK OF EVANGELIST

The following letter has been received from Mr. T. L. Montgomery of the Coshocton National bank, regarding Evangelist La Mance who is soon to begin a four weeks' campaign at the First M. E. church in this city. Mr. Montgomery is a former Newark citizen.

Mr. S. O. Riggs, Newark, O., My dear friend:

I understand that the Rev. W. N. La Mance of Mt. Sterling, Illinois, is coming next month to hold a special service at the First Methodist church in Newark.

I feel that you are to be congratulated upon securing the services of this man. He had charge of the special services at our church here in Coshocton last March, which proved to be one of the most successful meetings ever held here. He is a splendid talker and presents Christianity in a way that appeals to his hearers. His methods are good. He doesn't embarrass or trap anyone. He simply hammers away at the fundamental principles of sin and salvation, in a manner that awakens consciences. The influence of the meetings here extended so far beyond the limits of our own church that it has been suggested that we have him back again for a union service.

I am very sure that the people of Newark will find it a great privilege to attend his meetings and I will further venture the prediction that they will not attend them but a short time, until they realize that their souls are climbing to higher levels, and resolving for better things.

With best wishes for a most successful meeting, I remain very truly yours, T. L. Montgomery.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD-TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore harmless.

AT ONCE! CLOGGED NOSTRILS OPEN, HEAD COLDS AND CATARRH VANISH

Breathe Freely! Clears Stuffed-up, Inflamed Nose and Head and Stops Catarrhal Discharge. Cures Dull Headache.

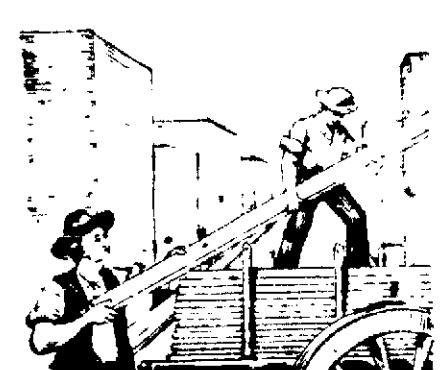

Try "Ely's Cream Balm"

Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it—Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely, dullness and headache disappear. By morning! the catarrh, cold-in-head or catarrhal sore throat will be gone.

End such misery now! Get the small bottle of "Ely's Cream Balm" at any drug store. This sweet, fragrant balm dissolves by the heat of the nostrils; penetrates and heals the inflamed, swollen membrane which lines the nose, head and throat; clears the air passages; stops nasty discharges and a feeling of cleansing, soothing relief comes immediately.

Don't lay awake tonight struggling for breath with head stuffed, nostrils closed, hawking and blowing. Catarrh or a cold, with its running nose, foul mucus dropping into the throat, and raw dryness is distressing but truly needless.

Put your faith just once in "Ely's Cream Balm" and your cold or catarrh will surely disappear.

THE PLANKS WE PLANK DOWN

in front of your place will be as good years from now as they are today. They are all thoroughly sound, properly seasoned wood which will neither warp, shrink or crack. If properly protected, while others have to make frequent repairs, you can look on and think how wise you were to get your lumber here when you built.

LAYMENS' MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

The laymen's missionary conference and campaign which will begin in this city Saturday evening at 6:30 with a banquet for laymen at the Fifth Street Baptist church will be a meeting of great importance to all the churches of the city.

The executive committee in charge consists of Dr. H. O. Rowlands, A. R. Evans, P. H. Fry and Frank L. Johnson. At the banquet held at 6:30 Saturday evening there will be

S. J. COREY, representatives from all the churches of the city. The main address of the evening will be made by Stephen J. Corey who is considered one of the greatest missionary leaders in the country. The following subjects will be discussed after the supper:

"America as a Field and a Force," "The World's Challenge to the Church Today," "The Call of the Distant Lands," "The United Missionary Campaign."

The tickets for this banquet can be secured from the pastors of each church or at the Y. M. C. A.

RUB RHEUMATISM PAIN AWAY WITH ST. JACOBS OIL

Count fifty! Pain gone. Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot," and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn or discolor the skin.

Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness, stiffness and swelling. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains.

DEMOCRATS AND PROGRESSIVES FORM A COALITION

Associated Press Telegram Boston, Mass., Jan. 7.—The possibility of a coalition of Democrats and Progressives in an effort to prevent the reelection of Grafton D. Cushing, Republican, as speaker of the house of representatives, created unusual interest on the convening of the Massachusetts legislature today for its annual session. For many years the Republicans have controlled both house and senate, but in the house this year the Republican membership of 116 is four less than a majority. There are 104 Democrats, 15 Progressives and one Socialist.

As the Republicans have a majority of four in the senate they were able to control the organization of that branch and secure the election of Cullen Coalidge of Northampton as president.

David L. Walsh, Democrat, will be inaugurated as governor tomorrow.

TRAGEDY IN A LOS ANGELES, CAL. BOARDING HOUSE

Associated Press Telegram Los Angeles, Jan. 7.—A man, a woman and a little girl are dead today as a result of a number of revolver shots fired in a lodging house here late last night. The police theory is that Mrs. Mary Cox or Graves, shot and killed William Melton, a local attorney and then killed her daughter, Florence, 12 years old, and finally shot herself.

The woman is known to the police as Mrs. Cox, but registered as Mrs. Graves, and came here from San Francisco about two weeks ago. No motive for the shooting is known.

WOMAN A DIVORCEE

Associated Press Telegram San Francisco, Jan. 7.—No cause for the Los Angeles triple tragedy could be learned from Mrs. Elizabeth Graves, the aged mother of Mrs. Mary Cox-Graves.

Mrs. Graves said her daughter was a divorcee, and that Melton had been attentive to her for three weeks. He preceded her about two months ago to Los Angeles, where he hoped to find remunerative employment.

PRESIDENT OF TELEPHONE CO. GOES TO PRISON

Associated Press Telegram New York, Jan. 7.—James Dunlop Smith, president of the Radio Telephone company, was sentenced today to spend a year and a half in the Federal prison at Atlanta and pay a fine of $500 for conspiring to swindle investors in the stock of the corporation through use of the mails.

Ebner E. Burdick, agent of a subsidiary company, was sentenced to two and a half years imprisonment and fined $50,000.

The Ellis Orth company, a subsidiary which handled the parent corporation's stock, was fined $10,000.

Sentences were imposed by Federal Judge Holt. The government charged that investors in Radio stock were swindled out of a million dollars by the false representations of the defendants.

COTTAGES ARE CARRIED AWAY BY LANDSLIDE

Associated Press Telegram San Francisco, Jan. 7.—Seven cottages on a hill in the Mission district are being slowly carried down a steep slope today on the crest of a great V-shaped landslide. Heavy rains are supposed to have started the slide.

Occupants of the houses have gone to other quarters.

The sides of the triangular mass of earth which began to move Sunday night are clearly marked by a fissure at one point nine feet deep. Fear is felt for two score of homes within the possible path of the slide and many of the dwellers have moved to the homes of neighbors.

FIGHT NOW ON BETWEEN TWO CITY ENGINEERS

Associated Press Telegram Warren, O., Jan. 7.—This city has two engineers trying to hold the same job. Ben McKee Jr., was appointed by Service Director Grimessey when the latter took office this week. When McKee tried to gain possession of the office today he found B. C. Smith named under the last administration holding the fort and disinclined to surrender. Smith says he cannot be removed except for cause under the civil service law. Application will be made to Attorney General Hogan for a ruling in the dispute.

OHIO MUNICIPAL LEAGUE MEETS IN COLUMBUS.

HOW TO PREVENT ACID STOMACHS AND FOOD FERMENTATION

By a Stomach Specialist.

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, which causes all the pain and difficulty, is acid in the stomach, usually due to, or aggravated by, food fermentation. Acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes wind which distends the stomach abnormally causing that full bloated feeling. Thus both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated almost past endurance by these foreign elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over 90 per cent. of all stomach difficulties—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking in a little warm or cold water immediately after eating half a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia, which is doubtless the best and only really effective antacid and food corrective known. The acid will be neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly, and your stomach will at once proceed to digest the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your chemist for the bisulphate of magnesia, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

Schools Big Aid In Fight to Control Infectious Diseases

By Dr. VICTOR C. VAUGHAN, President of the American Medical Association

MAN is, first of all, an animal. The first step in his betterment is the improvement of his physical condition. No philosophy that ignores this fundamental principle can be sound. No religion that neglects MAN'S PHYSICAL CONDITION and his material environment can endure. No government that fails to PROTECT ITS CITIZENS AGAINST DISEASE can long continue. Infection, nourished by IGNORANCE, INDIFFERENCE OR GREED of his fellow man, lurks about him at his place of business and pursues him in his pleasures.

Typhoid fever alone is COSTING THIS COUNTRY ANNUALLY MORE THAN ONE HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS, a sum which, if wisely expended, would within less than twenty-five years place a perfectly safe water supply in every city and village in the country.

THE MOST PROMISING MOVE TOWARD THE EMANCIPATION OF MAN FROM THE BONDAGE OF THE INFECTIOUS DISEASES IS THE PROVISION FOR INSTRUCTION IN THE CAUSATION AND PREVENTION OF THESE DISEASES TO THE CHILDREN IN OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There has been a law to this effect upon the statutes of Michigan since 1895, but it has been largely a dead letter because the average teacher in our schools knows nothing about the subject and is too indifferent to seek information. The young are quick to learn, and they are still UNSHACKLED BY THE TRADITIONS AND DOGMAS THAT BIND THE ADULT.

Poisonous milk is responsible for the high death rate among children. In one year there were born in the city of Berlin between forty-nine and fifty thousand children. Before the year was over more than twelve thousand of these died.
